ADVISORY #: 20-093

SUBJECT: CME Group to Close Chicago Trading Floor as a Precaution and Trading Floor Q&A

We announced last night that we will be closing the CME Group trading floor at the close of business Friday, March 13 as a precaution to reduce large gatherings that can contribute to the spread of coronavirus and in line with the advice of medical professionals.

Below and in the attached Q&A is further guidance:

- All members, member firms, and their employees should consider what information they will need to conduct business remotely. This could include customer contact information and any personal property stored on the floor.
- Full-sized equity index contracts including S&P 500 futures and options on futures will continue to be available on CME Globex only during overnight trading hours. During regular trading hours, market participants can manage S&P pit-based product exposure with available products listed on CME Globex and, pursuant to Rule 855 (Offsetting Positions for Different-Sized Contracts), may request their clearing member firm to offset full-sized and mini- or micro-sized positions in the ratios specified in the Rule 855 Table accessible via a link in Chapter 8 of the Rulebook.

The health and safety of our CME Group community remains a top priority.

Thank you for your support. We will continue to provide updates later today.

CME Group Closes Chicago Trading Floor as a Precaution
Trading Community Q&A
March 12, 2020

1. Why are you closing the trading floor? When will it close?

The health and safety of our CME Group community continues to be our top priority. We will close our Chicago trading floor as of the close of business Friday, March 13, 2020 as a precaution to reduce large gatherings that can contribute to the spread of coronavirus in line with the advice of medical professionals.

2. Has a case of coronavirus been confirmed on the trading floor or in the building?

No. CME Group is taking this step out of an abundance of caution.

3. Do you plan to close the trading floor permanently?

The reopening of the trading floor will be evaluated as more medical guidance on the coronavirus becomes available.

4. How can I trade the standard S&P contract when the floor is closed?

Full-sized equity index contracts including S&P 500 futures and options on futures will continue to be available on CME Globex only during overnight trading hours. During regular trading hours, market participants can manage S&P pit-based product exposure with available products listed on CME Globex and, pursuant to Rule 855 (Offsetting Positions for Different-Sized Contracts), may request their clearing member firm to offset full-sized and mini- or micro-sized positions in the ratios specified in the Rule 855 Table accessible via a link in Chapter 8 of the Rulebook.

Ex-pit transactions on Standard S&P 500 contracts will still be permitted - this includes block trades and EFRPs for options and only EFRPs for futures.

5. How can I trade S&P Flex Options when the floor is closed?

For those S&P Flex Options that were previously initiated and listed, participants will be able to trade them electronically on CME Globex or via a block trade. Effective immediately, you will not be able to initiate any new S&P Flex Options.

6. How will CME Direct operate when the floor is closed? How will I get access?

There will be no changes to how CME Direct operates today. For more information on CME Direct and how to get access, visit <http://www.cmegroup.com/trading/cme-direct.html>.

7. What are the rules and procedures on pre-execution discussions?

The Market Regulation Advisory Notices related to pre-execution rules and procedures are available at <https://www.cmegroup.com/rulebook/rulebook-harmonization.html>. Market Regulation Advisory Notices related to block trading are available at: <https://www.cmegroup.com/rulebook/files/cme-group-Rule-526.pdf>.

8. What will happen to unfilled orders including Good-Til-Canceled (GTC) orders?

All unfilled orders, including GTCs, should be returned to either the qualifying clearing member or originating firms by the close of business this Friday, March 13.

9. Who should I contact if I need access to the trading floor?

As of close of business Friday, March 13, 2020, access to the trading floor will not be permitted.
