INTERNATIONAL DERIVATIVES EXPO

5-7 June 2017
The Brewery
London UK

CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

WELCOME TO IDX

FIA is delighted to welcome you to the 10th Annual International Derivatives Expo – IDX 2017. This is a milestone conference for us. In the past decade, the political and economic landscape has changed dramatically and today, the time is ripe to review how the industry and our markets are faring under the new regulatory structure. At IDX, we'll be facilitating discussions about smart regulation, globally accessible markets, technological innovation, and political developments like Brexit and the newly appointed regulators in Washington, D.C.

We'll hear from Steven Maijoor, Chair of ESMA, as well as Andrew Busch, who was appointed to the newly-created role of Chief Market Intelligence Officer of the U.S. CFTC earlier this year. Steven and Andrew are joined by a host of leaders and industry experts who will take part in our panels and discussions.

We're also pleased to debut our first Dragons in the Dungeon session, in which a panel of industry "dragons" will introduce us to innovative fintech startups trying to disrupt our industry. Be sure to check out these innovators, as well as our sold-out exhibit hall.

This year also marks the tenth gala charity dinner in aid of Futures for Kids, which supports charities around the globe in their work to build a better future for children in need. We are pleased to host this gala dinner, including the popular Kilt Challenge and silent auction. This year's kilt-wearer is Kim Taylor, President of Clearing and Post-Trade Services at CME Group. Kim is determined to raise £10,000 this year, and I hope you'll help support her in this worthy effort.

Thank you for joining us at IDX and for helping to build this conference over the past decade.

Walt Lukken
President & Chief Executive Officer, FIA

One-on-One Interview with Andrew Busch

INTERVIEWER:

Walt Lukken, President & Chief Executive Officer, FIA

SPEAKER:

Andrew Busch, Chief Market Intelligence Officer, Commodity Futures Trading Commission

Andrew B. Busch was appointed Chief Market Intelligence Officer of the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission in April. This newly created role reports directly to the CFTC chairman, engaging with the Commission's new Market Intelligence Unit as well as market participants, industry analysts, economists, policy makers and other regulators. In this one-to-one interview with FIA's Walt Lukken, Busch will describe the work of the Market Intelligence Unit as it assesses, analyses and communicates current and emerging derivatives market dynamics, developments and trends, including the impact of new technologies and trading methodologies.

Busch was previously CEO of Bering Productions Inc, a company he founded, having joined from Bank of Montreal where he held a number of positions including Global Currency and Public Policy Strategist. He was an advisor to the White House, U.S. Treasury and Congress on the financial markets from 2005-2009.

Smart Regulation

CHAIR:

Simon Puleston Jones, Head of Europe, FIA

There is a growing recognition across the globe of the need to review the way listed and cleared derivatives markets are regulated.

In Europe, this has already resulted in the Call for Evidence and the EMIR Review, while in the U.S., the new administration has ordered a review of regulations to consider changes necessary to Dodd-Frank. This panel of regulatory experts will assess the effectiveness of existing regulation, discuss where change may be required and what progress is being made.

Eurex Group. The right combination for today's markets.

Eurex Group turns ideas into opportunities – in trading and clearing, technology and risk management. The Group comprises five integrated businesses: Eurex Exchange, the European Energy Exchange, Eurex Clearing, Eurex Bonds and Eurex Repo. As one of the world's leading derivatives exchanges Eurex Exchange offers a broad range of international benchmark products.

The exchange operates one of the most liquid fixed income markets, provides the broadest range of equity index derivatives worldwide and is the platform of choice for European equity derivatives. In addition, Eurex Exchange covers derivatives on dividends, volatility and ETFs. All on one single platform. With about 2,000 products across nine traditional and alternative asset classes, the exchange provides its customers a broad diversity and greater opportunities.

As one of the leading central counterparties globally, Eurex Clearing assures the safety and integrity of markets while providing innovation in risk management, clearing technology and client asset protection. We provide fully-automated, straight-through post-trade services for derivatives, equities, bonds, secured funding & financing and energy transactions, as well as industry-leading risk management technologies. Partnering with other industry leaders, investors and regulators around the world, our people are shaping an environment where all participants can get more from the market. Eurex Group is part of Deutsche Börse Group.

 @ICE_Markets

 info@theice.com

Intercontinental Exchange (NYSE: ICE) operates the leading network of global futures and equity exchanges and provides world class clearing, data and listing services across commodity and financial markets. The New York Stock Exchange is the world leader in capital raising and equities trading.

Formed in 2000, ICE's electronic trading platform brought more transparency and accessibility to the OTC energy markets. Soon after, ICE added global futures and cleared OTC markets across virtually all asset classes, data services and clearing houses. With a culture of growth through client service and innovation, ICE's global network and state-of-the-art technology solutions serve the dynamic needs of market participants around the world.

Today, the result is an ecosystem of 12 exchanges, 6 clearing houses as well as global data and listings services that combine to provide access to global capital and derivatives markets.
